WEBINAR

802-84

- Topic : Indian Democracy@75 Prospects and challenges
Organized by : Department of Political Science
Date & Time : 19.06.2022, 11 a.m.
Speaker : Dr. Pradipta Mukherjee, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Hiralal Majumder Memorial College
Participants : 69 including teachers and students

AIM :

To uphold whatever is progressive about India's socio-cultural political and economic identity since its independence in 1947, as per available statistics, India has transformed from a poverty stricken nation into one of the world's fastest growing economies Indian's multi-party democracy as evolved over the years.

Now it is time to evaluate the prospects as well as challenges being faced by the world's largest democracy that the students as Indian citizens shall start evaluating on the basis of information called from the presentation of the day's speaker.

Speech :

The erudite speaker presented his analysis of the evolution of Indian democracy down the memory lane emphasizing upon its nature its working, importance, future prospects along with challenges.

The celebration of India's 75th Independence Day provides us a great opportunity to delve back in time when a newly independent nation made its 'tryst' with political democracy and how it is faring today on key democratic factors as well as in comparison to other major democracies in the world.

Outcome :

Apart from academic pursuits the young students as citizens or Indian National exercising their voting rights come to know once again about Indian independent modern democratic journey that started in 1950 with the full implementation of the constitution of India. It declared the nation as a sovereign democratic republic granting Universal 326 of the constitution – a strong base for democracy.

It reminded them about the famous observation of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, political democracy cannot last unless there lies at the base of its social democracy meaning a way of life that recognizes liberty, equality and fraternity as the principles of life.

Focusing on our roots of culture and lifestyle and moving forward on the path of development.

Speech :

Dr. Das analysed elaborately in a scientific manner how a huge corpus of ancient texts provide a moral guideline for environmental preservation and conservation. Abuse and exploitation of nature was considered as unjust. Plans to protect air and water, wilderness and wildlife are in fact plans to protect man. Management of land and water resources. The talk examined several traditional Indian practices for environmental conservation and their relevance and practicality in today's era of environmental degradation.

Outcome :

In the past few years, the threats to our environment have become exigent. Natural calamities are occurring frequently. Global warming is increasing rapidly. Threats to our environment have to environmental education especially in academic institutions.

But this thought provoking lecture today has harped on role of ancient texts to illuminate the students with an alternative option and integration with the community at large.
