REPORT OF WEBINAR

Name/ Caption of the Webinar: Tropical Cyclone in South Bengal: Causes, Effect and Preparedness-With special reference to 'Amphan'.

Organized by: Department of Geography

Date: 11/04/2021

Introduction:

Tropical cyclone is a prevalent climatic phenomena in South Bengal for its very geographic location. Every year enormous land and water resource and even human resource also is affected severely by the tropical cyclone. The frequency of cyclone is increasing nowadays with the rise of sea level. The economy of South Bengal is also affected by its devastating effects. Keeping its importance in view the Department of Geography has organized a webinar regarding Tropical Cyclone. (caption as in the above in bold). Dr. Rajat Halder, Assistant Professor in Geography, Basirhat College has delivered the said lecture.

Objectives:

- 1) To educate the students about the origin of tropical cyclone and its effect.
- 2) To aware our pupil and other stakeholders about the preparedness before the cyclone landfalls on coastal region.
- 3) To alert all stakeholders about the technique to reduce the effect the tropical cyclone.

Description and Key Points:

Dr.. Rajat Halder, the speaker of this webinar elaborately explained the cause of origin of tropical cyclone, its probable track and why tropical cyclone moves towards coastal region of South Bengal which originates in the warm sea, Bay of Bengal. He further described how do you mitigate the devastating effect of cyclone in pre and post cyclonic time. The most severe cyclone Amphan and its origin and effect got priority in his lecture. More than 100 students of different semesters and professors of various disciplines attended the webinar. They interacted with the speakers about the various aspects of tropical cyclone. Through this interaction they have been enriched a lot.

Conclusion:

We cannot stop tropical cyclone with our present scientific knowledge and technology. But if we acquire some knowledge about its origin, effect and management during the pre and post cyclonic period then we can save our human resource and natural resource too. Our students and teachers have learned a lot in this respect.
